Duties: You will serve as technical expert and senior program engineer for the Engineering, Manufacturing and Test functions for Firefinder Radar Products, utilizing an in-depth knowledge of engineering principals, techniques and a working knowledge of other related disciplines in support of Maintenance missions. Complex assignments are typically received by you, many of a unique nature, that require in depth investigation to resolve radar performance issues. The assignments are difficult in that precedents and guidelines are often not available, or are conflicting and controversial, necessitating skillful determinations. The engineering solutions which must be independently developed have an important impact on the program in the concerned area. The work also requires recognition of the relationship of problems and practices of related engineering fields, either to solve the engineering problem or refer to the appropriate source.

About the Position: Tobyhanna Army Depot is the largest, full-service electronics maintenance facility in the Department of Defense with a total installation work force of more than 4,400. The depot's mission includes design, manufacture, repair and overhaul of hundreds of electronic systems for all branches of the Armed Forces. They include satellite terminals, radio and radar systems, secure communications, electro-optics, night vision and anti-intrusion devices, airborne surveillance equipment, navigational instruments, electronic warfare, and guidance and control systems for tactical missiles. For over 50 years, Tobyhanna personnel have built a tradition of unparalleled customer satisfaction through the delivery of timely, cost-effective, and high-quality products and services. Located in Northeastern Pennsylvania, near Stroudsburg, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, the depot is readily accessible to major East Coast cities, interstate highways, railways, international airports, colleges and universities.
